

Experiment 13: Finishing Your Project

This is your final lab meeting before the presentation and report. Next week is the last full week of classes. Please work hard and, if you are lucky enough to finish your project early, continue to complete the Explore More!* Laboratory modules supplied by your TA to enhance your experience! This is the last week the modules may be submitted for credit.

Your TA will provide information about the upcoming demos and submitting your final project report.
