LEARNING OBJECTIVES - Lecture 22 (Node Centrality)

After attending lecture and completing the associated readings, you should be able to:

1. State the definitions of various centrality measures and how they emerge from notions of dynamics and flow. These include eigenvector, Katz, PageRank, closeness, and betweenness centralities.
2. Compute these notions of node centrality.